SAFETY NOTICE

Toyota Tacoma model years 2018 and newer are equipped with a TSS (Toyota Safety Sense™) sensor, located on non-TRD Pro models in the Toyota Emblem on the front grille. For TRD Pro models, this is located under the TOYOTA lettering on the front grille. This technology is designed to help protect people in or around the vehicle from harm. TSS is used to support the driver with potential frontal collisions, unintended lane departures, and nighttime driving. Refer to a Toyota Owner's Manual for additional information on operation, setting adjustments, limitations and precautions of this system. Ultimately the driver is responsible for steering & braking inputs and vehicle operation at all times.

The mesh grill that we manufacture, uses an adapter plate that is designed to relocate the sensor to near the position used by Toyota for the TRD Pro models. Our intent is to retain the functionality of the TSS system by keeping the sensor as close to the same pitch and yaw of the factory design as possible. Before purchase of our product, find a Toyota dealership that is capable of recalibrating the TSS sensor after installation of our TSS bracket to ensure proper alignment and calibration of the TSS sensor.

Additional information about the TSS system can be found on Toyota's website here: https://www.toyota.com/content/ebrochure/CFA_TSS_12.13.16.pdf If this link is not working, please contact us directly at info@customcargrills.com for a copy.
